Comptroller Reminds Taxpayers State Individual Income & Estimated Tax Returns Not Due Until July 15

Deadline for federal returns is April 18, but Maryland filers have three more months to submit and pay what they owe

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (April 11, 2022) — While the federal individual income tax deadline is one week away on April 18, Comptroller Peter Franchot reminds Marylanders that they have three more months to file and pay their state individual income taxes for tax year 2021.

In January, Comptroller Franchot extended the individual income tax filing and payment due date to Friday, July 15, 2022. He also extended the first and second quarter individual estimated tax payments for tax year 2022 to July 15, 2022. These extensions do not apply to pass-through entities or corporate estimated tax filers.

“Many people are still struggling to cope with the financial consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic,” Comptroller Franchot said. “Our agency staff are working hard to get Marylanders’ tax returns processed and refunds issued within a matter of days so that people can pay for food, rent, gas and other necessities.”

Since the tax season started on January 24, the Comptroller’s Office has processed nearly 1.9 million electronic and paper tax returns, with nearly $1.5 billion in refunds issued to more than 1.3 million taxpayers. Last year, the Comptroller’s Office processed nearly 3.3 million returns and disbursed $3.2 billion in refunds.

This is the third consecutive year Comptroller Franchot has extended filing and payment deadlines for state individual income taxes to July 15, each time to assist taxpayers facing financial difficulties due to the pandemic.

In 2021, the agency detected and blocked more than 11,000 fraudulent tax returns and withheld $20.5 million in fraudulent refunds. Since the start of the current tax filing season, the Comptroller's Office has intercepted and blocked 3,101 fraudulent returns worth $6.7 million.

Comptroller Franchot urges Marylanders to file electronically, as it's the most secure and efficient way to submit a tax return. Most Marylanders who file electronically typically receive their state refunds in less than three business days. Marylanders can electronically file their state tax returns through the state's free iFile system, which can be accessed at www.marylandtaxes.gov.

The agency urges filers to consult our blocked tax preparers list prior to turning over any personal identifiable information to a third party.
