Comptroller Franchot to Recognize Mt. Washington Businesses Wednesday

Coffee with the Comptroller set for Zeke's Coffee

WHO: Comptroller Peter Franchot

WHAT: Comptroller Franchot begins his Wednesday morning at Zeke's coffee, a top finalist in the Best Coffee in Maryland Facebook poll. He will partake of the flavorful, locally roasted coffee while chatting with owner Thomas Rhodes and assembled java drinkers.

Next, Mr. Franchot heads to Mt. Washington Autohaus where he will present a proclamation to owner Brian Oursler for more than 40 years as a foreign car repair service specialist. The business is one of only a few in the area with equipment to service older vehicles.

The Comptroller then stops into Joe's Bike Shop, where he will present owner and avid cyclist Joe Trail with a proclamation. Joe's philosophy that everyone should own a bike because it makes people happier is one reason he was named best bike shop in Baltimore.

Mr. Franchot's final stop is at Abbey Burger Bistro where he will present owners Marigot and Russ Miller with a proclamation honoring the couple's fourth Abbey Burger Bistro location in the state. This family friendly burger joint offers a variety of enticing fare like the peanut butter burger and has a wide selection of Maryland craft beers.
